

Sample Report

This report is made using power bi.

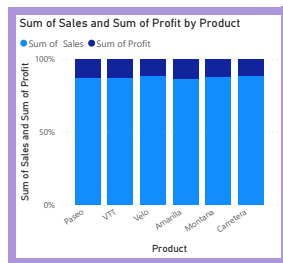

- The very first table is made using 2 measures – total sales and total profit and shown according to regions.

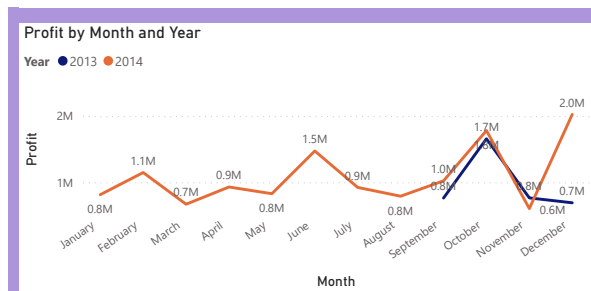

- Added this slicer to get result according to requirement

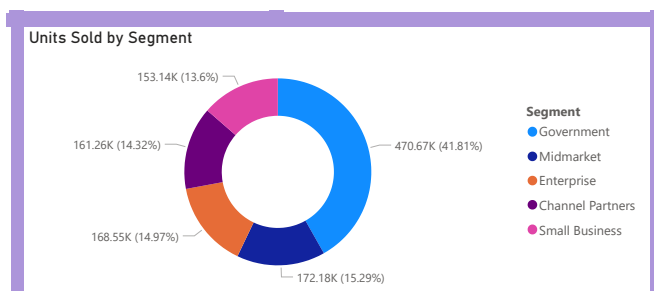

- This chart shows the number of units sold of a product.

- In this 100% stacked column chart show the relative percentage of sales and profits data in stacked bars, where the total of each stacked bar always equals 100%.

- Line chart are great to discover data over time. In this chart it compares the data of 2 years via months.

- This donut chart shows the units sold of segment. Each colour represent each segments. The whole circle is total number of units sold.